Introduction to Transformation

The transformation of a sentence means changing its form without changing its meaning. For example,

We can transform an exclamatory sentence into an assertive sentence or vice-versa.

We can also transform positive degree into comparative or superlative degree and vice-versa.

We can also transform simple sentences into complex or compound sentences and vice-versa.

N.B. To understand transformation of a sentence clearly, we need to learn about the sentence types, structures, clauses and its classification etc. We also must have fundamental knowledge on Tenses, parts of speech, relative pronouns etc.
